Early Modern Dynastic Marriages and Cultural Transfer

Joan-Lluís Palos, Magdalena S. Sanchez, 2017-05-15 Toward the end of the fifteenth century the Habsburg family began to rely on dynastic marriage to unite an array of territories eventually creating an empire as had not been seen in Europe since the Romans Other European rulers followed the Habsburgs lead in forging ties through dynastic marriages Because of these marriages many more aristocrats especially women left their homelands to reside elsewhere Until now historians have viewed these unions from a primarily political viewpoint and have paid scant attention to the personal dimensions of these relocations Separated from their family and thrust into a strange new land in which language attire religion food and cultural practices were often different these young aristocrats were forced to conform to new customs or adapt their own customs to a new cultural setting Early Modern Dynastic Marriages and Cultural Transfer examines these marriages as important agents of cultural transfer emphasizing how marriages could lead to the creation of a cosmopolitan culture common to the elites of Europe These essays focus on the personal and domestic dimensions of early modern European court life examining such areas as women's devotional practices fashion patronage and culinary traditions pursued exchanges real or imagined with those they referred to as the Turks Barthe calls into question the existence of an Orientalist discourse in the Renaissance and examines early cross cultural relations through the lenses of sixteenth century French literary and cultural production Informed by insights from historians literary scholars and art historians from around the world this study underscores and challenges long standing dichotomies Christians vs Muslims West vs East as well as reductive periodizations Middle Ages vs Renaissance and compartmentalization of disciplines Grounded in close readings it includes discussions of cultural production specifically visual representations of space and customs Barthe showcases diplomatic envoys courtly poets bourgeois prominent fiction writers and chroniclers who all engaged eagerly with the Turks and developed a multiplicity of responses to the Ottomans before the latter became both fashionable and neutralized and their representation fixed
