G. Walls,Jonathan A. Ship,2015-06-19 Textbook of Geriatric Dentistry Third Edition provides a comprehensive review of the aging process and its relevance to oral health and dentistry Now in full colour this third edition has been fully revised and updated with new material encompassing recent research and clinical developments within geriatric dentistry Written in a clear and accessible style this is an essential guide to geriatric dental practice for undergraduate and postgraduate dentistry students and practicing clinicians alike Key features include Contributions from an international group of expert authors Comprehensive coverage of oral healthcare issues in the older adult from demographics and physiology through to nutrition and pharmacology Provides both foundational knowledge and a guide to clinical management New chapters including material on orofacial pain quality of life and treatment planning     Legal Issues in Obstetrics Vivienne Harpwood,1996 Legal Issues in Obstetrics explores the law which applies to this important area of medicine Social and scientific developments in recent years have led to new legal and ethical problems for those practising in obstetrics and the legal framework is stated with special reference to both well established and emerging problems The book covers the reasons for the politicization of pregnancy and the new emphasis on maternal choice in obstetrics is discussed together with the attendant legal and ethical dilemmas The legal regulation of abortion is described and the important matter of genetic counselling is discussed After the law of medical negligence is explained disturbing issues raised by obstetric negligence cases for both patients and medical staff are explored The legal status of protocols and guidelines and the consequences for the practice of obstetrics and medical negligence claims are also examined in the context of risk management Finally the adequacy of the existing legal framework is assessed and the future of the law relating to obstetrics is considered BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved     Medicine, Law and Social Change L. W. Darvall,1993 Drawing primarily on Australian material but with reference to US and to a lesser extent UK materials this book provides an overview of the interaction between social and institutional forces shaping medical autonomy The various forces which will be examined include the consumer and women s movements Bioethics the common law and government Although each of these forces has developed independently nevertheless there is a common interest in underlying concepts of patients rights and autonomy The effects of each of these forces is examined in the context of the clinical relationship with particular reference to information disclosure and the rights of patients to refuse and demand treatment The book will be also concerned with the effect of these forces in professional self regulation     Death, Dying, and the Law Sheila McLean,1996 Issues surrounding the end of life and in particular questions of patient choice have seldom been so high on the legal ethical and political agenda This book examines these issues from a comparative perspective drawing conclusions about the role of the doctor the individual and the law makers in this moral minefield

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1993     Intersections--women on Law, Medicine, and Technology Kerry Anne Petersen,1997 Advances in technology and medicine are profoundly affecting the manner of human living presenting exciting and demanding challenges to law makers policy makers and healthcare providers who make decisions about genetics human reproduction competence medical treatment priorities and dying This international collection of essays combines the thoughts and ideas of women scholars writing about these complex developments and aims at provoking debate and dissension as well as an opportunity for reflection     The Law and Vulnerable Elderly People ,1986     A Patient's Right to Know Sheila McLean,1989 This volume addresses issues concerning the rights of patients     Abortion Regimes Kerry Anne Petersen,1993 The regulations of abortion through legal controls have always been a problematic issue This book places abortion in the context of reproductive medicine and explores the medicalization of abortion and the ethos of professionalism Although the forms of legal regulation vary throughout western jurisdictions the constant and most influential factor underlying these laws is the power of the medical profession The medicalization of abortion has largely removed abortion from the public arena and has buried the issue under the cloak of medical autonomy This book considers historical and contemporary issues surrounding the evolution of abortion law and speculates on future directions in abortion law and policy     Ethics and the Elderly Mark R. Wicclair,1993 With the increasing growth of the elderly population geriatric care is becoming eminently important not only to medical professionals but also to all those involved in caring for the elderly including social workers nursing home staff and relatives This timely work confronts in a clear and systematic manner the many ethical issues concerning care for elderly persons For instance what is sound ethical decision making in relation to life sustaining medical treatment for elderly patients At a time when aging of the population is increasing the demand for health care is age rationing a justified means of cost control How can investigators satisfy ethical requirements in relation to medical or social scientific research with elderly subjects and what special precautions are needed when elderly persons are ill demented dependent on social services and or institutionalized What are the responsibilities of adult children toward frail elderly parents How can professionals and relatives determine whether paternalism toward an elderly person is ethically justified In an accessible way this book explains the ethical and conceptual issues at stake Several key examples are presented and each chapter ends with an extensive case study and analysis Ethics and the Elderly will be a valuable resource for all those involved in geriatric care and to many in the field of bioethics     Mental Health Law in Context Michael

Cavadino,1989 The author examines within its proper social and philosophical context British mental health law and how it operates The law is examined in practice most specifically as it relates to the admissions policies of psychiatric hospitals weighing the relative merits of civil forced vs informal voluntary admission      Family Planning Practice and the Law

Kenneth McKenzie Norrie,1991 The author of this book suggests that there are two main reasons for the expansion of family planning in the last thirty years The first is the greater rights consciousness of women in the western world which has led to a greater expectation of choice of whole lifestyle and the second a recognition that sexual intercourse is something good in itself Legislation has reflected this change and the book discusses the various kinds of family planning available and the legal situation eg birth control and minors the rights of partners the rights of the mentally disabled and the responsibilities of doctors and other professionals      Geriatric Rehabilitation Bryan Kemp,Kenneth Brummel-Smith,Joseph W. Ramsdell,1990
