Southerland,2007 Teaching Science to Every Child proposes a fresh perspective for teaching school science and draws upon an extensive body of classroom research to meaningfully address the achievement gap in science education Settlage and Southerland begin from the point of view that science can be thought of as a culture rather than as a fixed body of knowledge Throughout this book the idea of culture is used to illustrate how teachers can guide all students to be successful in science while still being respectful of students ethnic heritages and cultural traditions By combining a cultural view of science with instructional approaches shown to be effective in a variety of settings the authors provide elementary and middle school teachers with a conceptual framework as well as pedagogical approaches which support the science learning of a diverse array of students Educators Guide to Free Internet Resources Educators Progress Service,2005-04 To provide our customers with a better understanding of each title in our database we ask that you take the time to fill out all details that apply to each of your titles Where the information sheet asks for the annotation we ask that you provide us with a brief synopsis of the book This information can be the same as what may appear on your back cover or an entirely different summary if you so desire International Handbook of Literacy and Technology Michael C.
