Economys Tension The Dialectics Of Community And Market:

Economy's Tension Stephen Gudeman, 2008-05-01 Why are we obsessed with calculating our selections The author argues that competitive trade nurtures calculative reason which provides the ground for most discourses on economy But market descriptions of economy are incomplete Drawing on a range of materials from small ethnographic contexts to global financial markets the author shows that economy is dialectically made up of two value realms termed mutuality and impersonal trade One or the other may be dominant however market reason usually cascades into and debases the mutuality on which it depends Using this cross cultural model the author explores mystifications of economic life and explains how capital and derivatives can control an economy The book offers a different conception of economic welfare development and freedom it presents an approach for dealing with environmental devastation and explains the growing inequalities of wealth within and between nations Market and Society C. M. Hann, Keith Hart, 2009-05-14 This volume considers how the work of Polanyi can contribute to our understanding of the relationship between market and society

The Informal Post-Socialist Economy Jeremy Morris, Abel Polese, 2013-12-13 From smugglers to entrepreneurs blue collar workers and taxi drivers this book deals with the multitude of characters engaged in informal economic practices in the former socialist regions Going beyond a conception of informality as opposed to the formal sector its authors demonstrate the fluid nature of informal transactions straddling the crossroads between illegal illicit socially acceptable and symbolically meaningful practices Their argument is informed by a wide range of case studies from Central Europe to the Baltics and Central Asia each of which is constructed around a single informant Each chapter narrates the story of a composite person or household that was carefully selected or constructed by an author with long standing ethnographic research experience in the given field site Wide in geographical empirical and theoretical scope the book uses ethnographic narrative accounts of everyday life to make links between ordinary meanings of informality Challenging reductively economic perspectives on cross border trading undeclared work and other informal activities the authors illustrate the wide variety of interpretive meanings that people ascribe to such practices Alongside getting by and getting ahead in recently marketised societies these meanings relate to sociality kinship ties and solidarity along with more surprising political and moral reasonings Economy and Ritual Stephen Gudeman, Chris Hann, 2017-05 According to accepted wisdom rational practices and ritual action are opposed Rituals drain wealth from capital investment and draw on a mode of thought different from practical ideas The studies in this volume contest this view Comparative historical and contemporary the six ethnographies extend from Macedonia to Kyrgyzstan Each one illuminates the economic and ritual changes in an area as it emerged from socialism and re entered market society Cutting against the idea that economy only means markets and that market action exhausts the meaning of economy the studies show that much of what is critical for a people s economic life takes place outside markets and hinges on ritual understood as the negation of the everyday world of economising The Extramercantile Economies of Greek and

Roman Cities David B. Hollander, Thomas R. Blanton IV, John T. Fitzgerald, 2019-04-16 Recent work on the ancient economy has tended to concentrate on market exchange but other forces also caused goods to change hands Such nonmarket transfers ranged from small private gifts to the wholesale confiscation of cities lands and their peoples The papers presented in this volume examine aspects of this extramercantile economy particularly benefaction and the role of associations as well as their impact on the market economy This volume brings together ancient historians New Testament scholars and classicists to assess critically the New Institutional Economics framework Combining theoretical approaches with detailed investigations of particular regions and topics its chapters examine Greek economic thought the benefits of membership in private associations and the economic role of civic euergetism from classical Athens to the municipalities of Roman Spain The Extramercantile Economies of Greek and Roman Cities will be of use to those interested in the economic context of ancient religions the role of associations in the economy theoretical approaches to the study of the ancient economy labor and politics in the ancient city as well as how Greek philosophers from Xenophon to Philodemus developed ethical ideas about economic behavior

Anthropologies of Value Luis Fernando Angosto-Ferrandez, Geir Henning Presterudstuen, 2016-08-20 Anthropologies of Value analyses the creation of value in a wide range of political and cultural contexts This edited collection includes anthropological case studies from around the globe from the commodification of a Venezuelan waterfall to the relative value of penguins in periods of imperialist expansion Questioning the validity of binary oppositions such as north south core periphery and west the rest as the basis of generalisations about culturally mediated engagements with capitalism this collection leaves no stone unturned in its search to understand and define anthropological value theory It provides much needed controversial new material for students of anthropology and proposes an alternative rarely discussed method of studying the world system which challenges mainstream existing work in the field

People, Money and Power in the Economic Crisis Keith Hart, John Sharp, 2014-10-01 The Cold War was fought between state socialism and the free market That fluctuating relationship between public power and private money continues today unfolding in new and unforeseen ways during the economic crisis Nine case studies from Southern Africa South Asia Brazil and Atlantic Africa examine economic life from the perspective of ordinary people in places that are normally marginal to global discourse covering a range of class positions from the bottom to the top of society The authors of these case studies examine people s concrete economic activities and aspirations By looking at how people insert themselves into the actual unequal economy they seek to reflect human unity and diversity more fully than the narrow vision of conventional economics

Biocultural Rights, Indigenous Peoples and Local Communities Fabien Girard, Ingrid Hall, Christine Frison, 2022-04-18 This volume presents a comprehensive overview of biocultural rights examining how we can promote the role of indigenous peoples and local communities as environmental stewards and how we can ensure that their ways of life are protected With Biocultural Community Protocols BCPs or Community Protocols CPs being increasingly seen as a powerful way of tackling this immense challenge this book investigates these new instruments and considers the lessons that can be learnt about the situation of indigenous peoples and local communities. It opens with theoretical insights which provide the reader with foundational concepts such as biocultural diversity, biocultural rights and community rule making. In Part Two the book moves on to community protocols within the Access Benefit Sharing (ABS) context while taking a glimpse into the nature and role of community protocols beyond issues of access to genetic resources and traditional knowledge. A thorough review of specific cases drawn from field based research around the world is presented in this part. Comprehensive chapters also explore the negotiation process and raise stimulating questions about the role of international brokers and organizations and the way they can use BCPs/CPs as disciplinary tools for national and regional planning or to serve powerful institutional interests. Finally the third part of the book considers whether BCPs/CPs notably through their emphasis on stewardship of nature and tradition can be seen as problematic arrangements that constrain indigenous peoples within the Western imagination without any hope of them reconstructing their identities according to their own visions or whether they can be seen as political tools and representational strategies used by indigenous peoples in their struggle for greater rights to their land, territories and resources and for more political space. This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars of environmental law, indigenous peoples, biodiversity conservation and environmental anthropology. It will also be of great use to professionals and policymakers involved in environmental management and the protection of indigenous rights. North America's Indian Trade in European Commerce and Imagination, 1580-1850 George Colpitts, 2013-11-29. In North America's Indian Trade in European Commerce and Imagination Colpitts offers new perspectives on Europe's contact with America by examining the ideas, debates and questions arising in the trading that linked newcomers with Native people. European capitalization of the Indian Trade beginning in the 16th century forced newcomers to confront the meaning and legitimacy of traditional gift economies and assess the vice and virtue of the commerce they pursued in the New World. Making use of French and English colonization texts, published narratives and state colonial papers, the author explores how European capital investments, credit, profits and commercial linkages elaborated and complicated understandings of North American people in the period of colonization.
