

Isometric contraction can be concentric, which is where muscle shortens as the fibres contract or eccentric, where the fibres contract as the muscle lengthens.

Isometric muscle contraction, or static exercise, is one in which the muscle contracts but there is no movement at joint. There is no change in length of the muscle, and no movement at the joint as but muscle fibre's contract.

Fast twitch fibres are used for powerful, fast movements. This however means they get tired quickly. Athletes who are good at short events (100m sprint) which require speed and power will have a higher number of fast twitch fibres.

Slow twitch fibres are good for endurance activities (1500m). They contract slowly with less force, but do not tire so easily. Long distance runners tend to have more of these fibres.

A Tendon is a flexible but inelastic cord of strong fibrous collagen tissue attaching a muscle to a bone.

The Muscular System Revision Guide

The body's involuntary muscles work our internal organs. They are outside our control.

Cardiac muscle is unique to the heart. It never tires.

Voluntary muscles make the body move. They are attached to the skeleton and can be controlled.

Skeletal muscle tissue is named for its location - attached to bones. Skeletal muscle tissue is named for its location - attached to bones. Skeletal muscle tissue can be made to contract/relax by conscious control (voluntary).

Smooth muscle tissue is located in the walls of hollow internal structures such as blood vessels, the stomach, intestines, and urinary bladder.

Agonist works with the muscles, and the antagonist is the muscle working against it in a contraction. I.e. Bicep curl, the agonist is the Biceps and the antagonist muscle is the triceps. The word agonist means "producing an action" - an antagonist opposes that action.
