

2008 AP® PHYSICS 2 EXAM ANSWERS ... NOT RADIALLY PLACED THERE

1. (a) Unbalanced

Because the forces exerted on the spring balance as weights are put on it are not balanced, the force that acts on it is unbalanced. (You can also say that the spring balance is not in static equilibrium, it shows constant velocity with net momentum, or because it has displacement relative to the system that it should not, and it takes time to move to a new equilibrium position.)

(b) Spring is doing the work to change system's energy (or spring is doing positive work on system)

(c) As the spring stretches, it does work on the system, so the system's energy increases. (or spring is doing positive work on system)

(d) Energy is added to the system by the spring. The work done by the spring is not balanced by

Energy by the spring work because the spring is accelerating, so the net external force is not zero. (or the spring is doing positive work on the system, but the system is not in static equilibrium, so the net external force is not zero.)

(e) The spring does work on the system, so the system's energy increases. (or the spring is doing positive work on the system, so the system's energy increases.) (or the spring is doing positive work on the system, so the system's energy increases.)

2. (a) Because the horizontal and vertical forces acting on particles are both 0, neither is the spring doing work. (You can also say that the system is in static equilibrium, there is no displacement due to the particles and spring.)

(b) As the spring stretches, there is a spring force that does 0 work, so the system's energy increases. (or the spring is doing positive work on the system, so the system's energy increases.)

(c) As the spring stretches, the spring does work on the system, so the system's energy increases. (or the spring is doing positive work on the system, so the system's energy increases.)

3. (a) Work done by the spring is the only work done on the system, so the system's energy increases. (or the spring is doing positive work on the system, so the system's energy increases.)

(b) Work done by the spring is the only work done on the system, so the system's energy increases. (or the spring is doing positive work on the system, so the system's energy increases.)

4. (a) Work done by the spring is the only work done on the system, so the system's energy increases. (or the spring is doing positive work on the system, so the system's energy increases.)
