Russia and European Human-Rights Law, 2014-11-20 In Russia and European Human Rights Law The Rise of the Civilizational Argument Lauri M Ikkoo and his co authors critically examine Russia's experiences as part of the European human rights protection system since its admittance to the Council of Europe in 1998 The authors combine legal and constructivist international relations theory perspectives in studying Russia's practice and rhetoric as a member of the Council of Europe and a subject to the jurisdiction of the European Court of Human Rights Certain aspects of human rights doctrine and practice in Russia are particularly highlighted the increasing impact of Orthodox Christian teachings on the Russian government's ideology the situation with media freedom freedom of religion etc The authors draw widely on Russian sources and media The questions whether modern day Russia truly fits in the human rights protection system of the Council of Europe and whether a margin of appreciation will suffice when dealing with Moscow are highly relevant in contemporary European politics

Prospects for the American Age Jamal Sanad Al-Suwaidi, 2014-10-28 The introduction Power Structure in the New World Order Argument of the Book highlights the main theme around which the study revolves namely the new world order It presents the hypothesis of the study regarding this new order along with several questions including what are the factors that indicate the coming of a new world order what are the most influential forces in that order how is that order structured and what are the most important and influential factors in the world order The introduction also presents the main premise of the book that the United States of America may be considered the dominant pole in the new world order and that the world will continue to exist in an American age that is expected to extend for at least a further five decades The qualitative supremacy of the United States of America has proven inescapable according to the data statistics and information presented in this book as well as the scales and variables of comparison adopted by the author in terms of economics military advancement energy resources transportation education culture and technological progress According to these standards the structure of the new world order may be described as a hierarchy with the United States of America alone at the top followed by a second tier comprising Russia China and the European Union a third tier consisting of Japan India and Brazil followed by the rest of world The introduction to this book may be considered a basic foundation for the analysis presented in the following seven chapters which examine the emergence current status and future of the new world order in its various dimensions Under the heading The New World Order Features and Concepts the first chapter of Al Suwaidi's new book presents a theoretical paradigm for the concept of the new world order in its various dimensions It presents two main themes the first deals with concepts relating to the world order drawing on literature that examines the evolution of the world order from the Peace of Westphalia in 1648 to the present day It also presents various different views and arguments concerning the nature of the world order and the distribution of power within it The first theme also explores the political military economic cultural educational technological and energy related dimensions of the world order and their importance in determining the relative powers of actors in the new world order Moreover it explains how the United States of America has succeeded in utilizing all these tools to achieve its ends and how it leads this world order according to a universal strategic vision aimed at maintaining US supremacy vis vis other major powers The first theme also presents an objective assessment of the different frameworks which are employed in analyzing the concept of the new world order The second theme of this chapter discusses the main features of the new world order which play a significant role in the interactions that occur within it and which define it with regard to previous historical eras of the global system Chapter II Factors Influencing the Structure of the New World Order examines the factors and patterns of influence and interaction within the world order These factors include relations among civilizations relative power in international relations economic factors military superiority technological development levels of knowledge challenges and variables and the behavior of major powers Chapter III The World Order Decisive Historic Junctures aims to draw a comprehensive analytical map to help in understanding the historical transformations of the world order and ultimately the nature of contemporary global realities The historical review presented in this chapter features an element that may make it unique it tackles the historical evolution of the world order from the emergence of the Ottoman state in the East through the ages of the Spanish Portuguese and other empires of the West It is an effort to present a balanced scholarly chronicle of the world order without neglecting the influence of the East on international relations throughout history Chapter IV The Economy Trade and Energy in the New World Order focuses on the role of economic factors in deciding the structure of the new world order and the hierarchy of powers within it It reveals that despite the spectacular rise of the Chinese economy during the past two decades it is still about half that of the United States and China still falls within the ranks of developing countries in terms of its average GDP per capita While the US economy is characterized by flexibility and high reliance on innovation and internal forces for growth China depends on foreign investment and employing low cost labor in export oriented industries This could make China more vulnerable to adverse economic shocks in the future The author also expects that developments in the energy sector will greatly affect the ranking of powers in the new world order The United States of America will increasingly become self dependent in terms of energy utilizing its various innovations in the field of shale gas and oil extraction and its gradual shift toward unconventional energy sources from the western hemisphere the Americas giving it a strong comparative advantage in the future Chapter V Public Opinion Regarding the New World Order A Sample Survey of UAE Citizens resents the findings of a public opinion survey in the UAE concerning the new world order The survey focuses on nationality age gender and educational level as explanatory variables of differences in public opinion toward the new world order In Chapter VI Prospective Structural Changes and their Consequences for the New World Order the author discusses the potential structural strategic changes in the new world order in the coming five decades stressing that unipolarity will have a variety of impacts on the world The author anticipates that US influence in international financial institutions will increase and that over the next decade Washington will reduce its dependence on oil from regions plagued by risk and instability The Clash of Civilizations and the Remaking of World Order Samuel P. Huntington, 1996 Argues that world political actions and decisions are being configured along cultural rather than economic or religious lines and looks at the issues and areas most likely to be in the forefront in the near future The Clash of Civilisations Or the End of History? Dominik Kalweit, 2008-02 Seminar paper from the year 2005 in the subject Politics International Politics Topic European Union grade A 1 0 University of Malta Faculty of International Relations course North Africa International Order in the 21st Century language English abstract Introduction Samuel P Huntington notable political scientist and professor at Harvard University raised a great discussion when his article The Clash of Civilizations was published in 1993 As a response to Francis Fukuyama s The End of History thesis Huntington provides the post Cold War world with a scheme of interpretation for the international relations of the multi polarity which is to be found after 1989 up to date Further Huntington s main hypothesis states that the fundamental source of conflict will not be primarily ideological or primarily economic The great division among humankind and the dominating source of conflict will be cultural In opposition Fukuyama beforehand ibidem una traho describes the global political order after the fall of the Iron Curtain as clearly defined The end of history is reached since democracy will be the only reliable form of governance and state building establishing in more and more countries throughout the world regarding a long term spectrum of time There is such a thing as a single coherent modernisation process leading to liberal democracy and market oriented economies as the only viable choices This text will provide a short analysis of the countries of Northern Africa namely Morocco Algeria Tunisia Libya and Egypt from the time of the twentieth century until to date By doing so particular emphasis will be put on cultural historical and political aspects of the region which even that they might to a large extent be treated individually have to be examined as co relating and inter acting with each other nonetheless In the context of the a priori introduced contr Global Islamophobia and the Rise of Populism Sahar F. Aziz, John L. Esposito, 2024 In recent years Islamophobia has seen a disturbing global rise Blaming Muslim minorities for economic political and social problems is an increasingly common rhetorical strategy for politicians in countries worldwide A narrative of the threatening Muslim invader is troublingly prevalent regardless of whether the targets of such rhetoric are born citizens or new arrivals Its consequences are deadly and devastating for Uyghurs in China indefinitely detained in concentration camps Indian Muslims attacked in pogroms and the Rohingya victims of genocide In parts of Europe and North America the consequences of Islamophobia are less overtly violent but no less harmful Muslims are banned from wearing hijab building minarets opening Islamic schools or legally immigrating to certain countries In the United States Europe and India Islamophobic rhetoric is increasingly normalized fracturing ethnically diverse societies as xenophobic right wing political ideals accumulate followers at an alarming pace In turn Islamophobia in the West gives license to discrimination elsewhere creating a vicious cycle of Islamophobia Global Islamophobia and the Rise of Populism is the first book to
