Dr He Maths Coaching:

The Old Men at the Zoo Angus Wilson, 2015-07-30 Set in a near future the novel was first published in 1961 and is set in the period 1970-73 this is Angus Wilson's most allegorical novel about a doomed attempt to set up a reserve for wild animals. Simon Carter, secretary of the London Zoo, has accepted responsibility and power to the prejudice of his gifts as a naturalist. But power is more than just the complicated game played by the old men at the zoo in the satirical first half of this novel; it lies very near to violence and in the second half real life inexorably turns to fantasy, the fantasy of war. This tense and at times brutal story offers the healing relationship between man and the natural world as a solution for the power dilemma.

Confessions of 'A Gay Globetrotter' Johnson O'Toole, 2003-04 A candid, humorous and often moving account of one man's secret life of homosexuality in an era when to be gay risked not only being a social outcast but imprisonment if caught. The author's exploits and search for sexual happiness and expression start as a child on the Indian subcontinent, move on to his family's return to an austere post-war Britain, an unhappy and perhaps unjust dismissal from a promising army career in the Far East, through to the realisation that normal family life was never going to be an attainable goal in his global search for romantic bliss. From the shores of West Africa where he finds true love to Australia and the flesh pots of the Middle East, this is a true human interest story of our time told with passion, humour and pathos. A real insight into a way of life that had to be secreted from the world for most of the author's life.
