Dynamic Idealism Alfred Henry Lloyd, 1898 Doctrine, Dynamic and Difference Pieter de Witte, 2012 One of the most divisive issues in Western Christianity since the Reformation is the question of how humans are justified by God In 1999 after many decades of ecumenical dialogue Lutherans and Roman Catholics have declared that this issue of justification by faith is no longer a cause of division between them One of the fascinating features of this Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification JDDJ is that it expresses a differentiated consensus on justification The method of differentiated consensus is generally regarded as an important methodological step forward in the ecumenical dialogue It has been used and referred to in ecumenical documents published after 1999 But what are its meaning and implications This study attempts to clarify the method of differentiated consensus by 1 investigating the process of doctrinal rapprochement which led up to the JDDJ 2 examining the way the consensus takes shape in the document itself 3 analyzing arguments offered by critics and advocates of the official dialogue and 4 reflecting on the concept of doctrinal difference Bloomsbury Publishing The Dynamic of Christianity Edward Mortimer Chapman, 1904 Dynamic Sociology Lester Frank Ward, 1897 Mapping the Differentiated Consensus of the Joint Declaration Jakob Karl Rinderknecht, 2016-10-12 This book uses the insights of cognitive linguistics to argue for the possibility of differentiated consensus between separated churches The Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification signed by the Lutheran World Federation and the Roman Catholic Church in 1999 represents the high water mark of the twentieth century ecumenical movement It declares that the sixteenth century condemnations related to justification do not condemn the teachings of the partner church Some critics reject the agreement arguing that a consensus that is differentiated is not actually a consensus In this book Jakob Karl Rinderknecht shows that mapping the cognitive blends that structure meaning can reveal underlying agreement within apparent theological contradictions He traces Lutheran and Catholic positions on sin in the baptized especially the Lutheran simul iustus et peccator and the Catholic insistence that concupiscence in the baptized is not sin He demonstrates that the JDDJ reconciles these positions and therefore that a truly differentiated consensus is possible

The War Lawyers Craig Jones, 2020

Over the last 20 years the world's most advanced militaries have invited a small number of military legal professionals into the heart of their targeting operations spaces which had previously been exclusively for generals and commanders These professionals trained and hired to give legal advice on an array of military operations have become known as war lawyers The War Lawyers examines the laws of war as applied by military lawyers to aerial targeting operations carried out by the US military in Iraq and Afghanistan and the Israel military in Gaza Drawing on interviews with military lawyers and others this book explains why some lawyers became integrated in the chain of command whereby military targets are identified and attacked whether by manned aircraft drones and or ground forces and with what results This book shows just how important law and military lawyers have become in the conduct of contemporary warfare and how it is understood Jones argues that circulations of law and policy between the US and Israel have bolstered targeting practices considered legally questionable contending that the involvement of war lawyers in targeting operations enables legitimises and sometimes even extends military violence
