Schiraldi,2001-08-01 Every now and then we all second guess ourselves If you have low self esteem or are constantly comparing your successes and failures with those of the people around you it s time to take a step back and re evaluate how you treat you The Self Esteem Workbook is based on the author s original new research which has shown that self esteem can be significantly improved through the use of self help materials Now psychologist and health educator Glenn Schiraldi has shaped these tested resources into a comprehensive self directed program that guides readers through twenty essential skill building activities each focused on developing a crucial component of healthy self esteem This classic is still the most comprehensive guide on the subject and the only book that offers proven techniques for talking back to your self critical voice Learn step by step techniques to help you Handle your mistakes and respond well to criticism Foster compassion for yourself and others Set up and achieve goals that will enrich your life Use visualization for self acceptance If you are ready to stop being hard on yourself and start showing compassion and understanding this workbook can help you get started

Stepped Care 2.0: A Paradigm Shift in Mental Health Peter Cornish, 2020-06-13 This book is a primer on Stepped Care 2.0 It is the first book in a series of three This primer addresses the increased demand for mental health care by supporting stakeholders help seekers providers and policy makers to collaborate in enhancing care outcomes through work that is both more meaningful and sustainable Our current mental health system is organized to offer highly intensive psychiatric and psychological care While undoubtedly effective demand far exceeds the supply for such specialized programming Many people seeking to improve their mental health do not need psychiatric medication or sophisticated psychotherapy A typical help seeker needs basic support For knee pain a nurse or physician might first recommend icing and resting the knee working to achieve a healthy weight and introducing low impact exercise before considering specialist care Unfortunately there is no parallel continuum of care for mental health and wellness As a result a person seeking the most basic support must line up and wait for the specialist along with those who may have very severe and or complex needs Why are there no lower intensity options One reason is fear and stigma A thorough assessment by a specialist is considered best practice After all what if we miss signs of suicide or potential harm to others A reasonable question on the surface however the premise is flawed First the risk of suicide or threat to others for those already seeking care is low Second our technical capacity to predict on these threats is virtually nil Finally assessment in our current culture of fear tends to focus more on the identification of deficits as opposed to functional capacities leading to over prescription of expensive remedies and lost opportunities for autonomy and self management Despite little evidence linking assessment to treatment outcomes and no evidence supporting our capacity to detect risk for harm we persist with lengthy intake assessments and automatic specialist referrals that delay care Before providers and policy makers can feel comfortable letting go of risk assessment however they need to understand the forces underlying the risk paradigm that dominates our society and restricts creative solutions for supporting those in need
