Elizabeth And Hazel Two Women Of Little Rock:

Elizabeth and Hazel David Margolick, 2011-10-04 The names Elizabeth Eckford and Hazel Bryan Massery may not be well known but the image of them from September 1957 surely is a black high school girl dressed in white walking stoically in front of Little Rock Central High School and a white girl standing directly behind her face twisted in hate screaming racial epithets This famous photograph captures the full anguish of desegregation in Little Rock and throughout the South and an epic moment in the civil rights movement In this gripping book David Margolick tells the remarkable story of two separate lives unexpectedly braided together He explores how the haunting picture of Elizabeth and Hazel came to be taken its significance in the wider world and why for the next half century neither woman has ever escaped from its long shadow He recounts Elizabeth's struggle to overcome the trauma of her hate filled school experience and Hazel's long efforts to atone for a fateful horrible mistake The book follows the painful journey of the two as they progress from apology to forgiveness to reconciliation and amazingly to friendship This friendship foundered then collapsed perhaps inevitably over the same fissures and misunderstandings that continue to permeate American race relations more than half a century after the unforgettable photograph at Little Rock And yet as Margolick explains a bond between Elizabeth and Hazel silent but complex endures

White Trash Nancy Isenberg, 2016 In White Trash Nancy Isenberg upends assumptions about America's supposedly class free society and shows how poor whites have been deeply ingrained in the country's history for the past 400 years They were central to the both the Civil War itself and the rise of the Republican Party and still today feature in reality TV as entertainment White trash have always been an integral part of the American identity and here their history in both culture and politics is explored in depth A fascinating work that's timely to today's public debate about rich and poor

Child Activist Literature at the Turn of the 2020s Niall C. Nance-Carroll, 2024-10-29 Child Activist Literature at the Turn of the 2020s From Kids You Read About to Kids You Read looks at how today's child activists are not just followers in their forekids footsteps but blazers of new pathways employing sophisticated rhetorical strategies that invert and subvert conventional thinking on the roles of children in politics These young activists situate their work within a dense web of texts the ones they read the ones they write and the ones that they expect adults to deploy to dismiss them Nance Carroll analyzes texts authored by child activists alongside narratives of youth activism in literature and media and the stories activists tell about themselves and their work exploring issues of influence inspiration and authorship in child activist literature as a growing body of work challenges not just adults assumptions about children and politics but also some fundamental disciplinary tenets of children's and young adult literature

A Life is More Than a Moment Ernest Dumas, Robert S. McCord, 1999 A Life Is More Than a Moment carries us back to those painful and turbulent times but it does not leave us there For more than thirty years Will used these images as proof of the power of a well taken photograph to do good Stung by the claims of a student that Central High was not better off for his efforts in 1957 Will decided to return to Little Rock He went back to Central High and took a new series of photos He even managed to find many of the most important people in his original photographs Much has happened to them in forty years and Will the consummate storyteller gives voice to their lives

Find a Way Or Make One Alma J. Carten, 2021 Clark Atlanta University Whitney M Young Jr School of Social Work was founded in 1920 in Atlanta Georgia as the Atlanta School of Social Work to prepare social workers for practice in underserved black neighborhoods Spearheaded by black scholars and progressive whites during an era of racial segregation 2020 marks its centennial as the first accredited social work program at a historically black college and university In this book social work professor Alma J Carten describes the School's transitions from its beginnings amid the pervasive racism sanctioned by Supreme Court rulings in the Dred Scott and Plessy v Ferguson cases through the decades of 20th century progressive civil rights reforms and into the new conservatism of the 21st century Referencing archival documents Carten illustrates the School's commitment to the democratic principles of the profession despite the blatant racism of the segregated South and the less visible structural inequalities following desegregation from which mainstream social work education was not immune The book describes the influence of iconic thought leaders on the School's culture and academic programs beginning with Jesse O Thomas's speech on the need for a black school of social work given from the segregated section of the 1920 National Conference on Social

Work and including W E B DuBois Atlanta University Studies that pioneered the model of social progress powered by science E Franklin Frazier and Forrester B Washington who championed black social work and the integration of race critical content in the curriculum of all schools and Whitney M Young Jr who chastised social workers for their waning interest in advocacy for marginalized populations and encouraged them to become politically active Carten examines the evolution of the School within the context of changes in US social welfare policy CSWE accrediting standards and NASW Code of Ethics Highly readable the book brings to light the under reported contributions of HBCU social work programs to social work education and it thoughtfully engages with the School s efforts to legitimize the Afrocentric perspective and the humanistic values embraced by HBCU social work programs
