Eloquent Zen Kenneth Kraft, 1997-01-01 Zen master Daito 1282 1337 played a leading role in the transmission of Zen Chan from China to Japan He founded Daitokuji a major monastery that has been influential for centuries and he provided interpretations of Chinese texts Daito's traditional biography is full of vivid episodes including his years among the beggars of Kyoto and ending with his dramatic death in the meditation posture Despite his importance however Daito has remained virtually unknown in the West With the publication of Eloquent Zen Kenneth Kraft offers the first comprehensive account of the life and teachings of one of the greatest of Japan's Zen masters Dr Kraft begins with the foundations of medieval Japanese Zen He shows that Daito's predecessors were concerned with clarifying the essentials of Zen as it began to take root in Japan During this formative phase the Zen pioneers embraced varied conceptions of enlightenment and divergent notions of authenticity Kraft places Daito's contributions within this context offering new insights about early Japanese Zen and about Zen itself Throughout this study Kraft looks closely at the complex role of language in Zen a tradition supposedly distrustful of words Daito wrote haiku like poetry participated in brilliant dialogues and delivered powerful sermons His virtuosity in articulating the way of Zen beyond words beyond silence is nowhere more apparent than in his use of the capping phrase an interpretive and commentarial device unique to Zen Analyzing Daito's use of this device Kraft elucidates the significance of the literary and aesthetic dimensions of the Zen tradition Eloquent Zen includes valuable translations of Daito's poetry and other writings Illustrations include three classic portraits of Daito and rare examples of his calligraphy This lucid and engaging study will interest scholars and nonspecialists interested in Zen Japanese culture and Asian philosophy poetry and related fields

Approaches to Chan, Sōn, and Zen Studies Albert Welter, Steven Heine, Jin Y. Park, 2022-11-01 This volume focuses on Chinese Chan Buddhism and its spread across East Asia with special attention to its impacts on Korean Sŏn and Japanese Zen Zen enthralled the scholarly world throughout much of the twentieth century and Zen Studies became a major academic discipline in its wake Interpreted through the lens of Japanese Zen and its reaction to events in the modern world Zen Studies incorporated a broad range of Zen related movements in the East Asian Buddhist world As broad as the scope of Zen Studies was however it was clearly rooted in a Japanese context and aspects of the Zen experience that did not fit modern Japanese Zen aspirations tended to be marginalized and ignored Approaches to Chan S n and Zen Studies acknowledges the move beyond Zen Studies to recognize the changing and growing parameters of the field The volume also examines the modern dynamics in each of these traditions

Readings of the Gateless Barrier Jimmy Yu, 2025-01-07 The Gateless Barrier is one of the most cherished yet also one of the most enigmatic Chan or Zen texts of East Asian Buddhism Compiled by the Chinese Chan master Wumen Huikai in 1228 it contains forty eight Zen stories of spiritual awakening called public cases or gong ans known as k ans in Japanese and kongans in Korean This book presents a new English translation with close readings and creative analyses of the Gateless Barrier from both scholarly and practitioner perspectives allowing a range of readers to venture into the rich world of Chan and Zen Specialist contributors offer insights on historical context literary structure philosophical implications and gendered dimensions as well as the embodied practice and contemporary experience of the stories in the Gateless Barrier By bringing together academic expertise with experiential insight from Zen teachers this book provides a grounded and nuanced account of how the Gateless Barrier has been and continues to be practiced and lived in China Korea Japan and the West An innovative and sophisticated study this book is ideal for university classroom use and it also makes the Gateless Barrier accessible to other first time readers Buddhist practitioners and scholars Buddhist Spirituality Takeuchi

Yoshinori, 2003-01-01 Of all the great religions it is Buddhism that has focused most intensively on that aspects of religion that we call spirituality No religion has ste a higher value on states of spiritual insight and liberation and none has set forth so methodologically and with such a wealth of reflection the various paths and with such a wealth of reflection the various paths and disciplines by which such states are reached The aim of the volumes on Buddhism is to survey the entire tradition both chronologically and geographically in the varieties of its historical forms and in the great diversity of its teachings

Chan Rhetoric of Uncertainty in the Blue Cliff Record Steven Heine, 2016-04-28 This book provides an in depth textual and literary analysis of the Blue Cliff Record Chinese Biyanlu Japanese Hekiganroku a seminal Chan Zen Buddhist collection of commentaries on one hundred gongan koan cases considered in light of historical cultural and intellectual trends from the Song dynasty 960 1279 Compiled by the disciples of Yuanwu Keqin in 1128 the Blue Cliff Record is considered a classic of East Asian literature for its creative integration of prose and verse as well as hybrid or capping phrase interpretations of perplexing cases The collection employs a variety of rhetorical devices culled from both classic and vernacular literary sources and styles and is particularly notable for its use of indirection allusiveness irony paradox and wordplay all characteristic of the approach of literary or lettered Chan However as instrumental and influential as it is considered to be the Blue Cliff Record has long been shrouded in controversy The collection is probably best known today for having been destroyed in the 1130s at the dawn of the Southern Song dynasty 1127-1279 by Dahui Zonggao Yuanwu's main disciple and harshest critic. It was out of circulation for nearly two centuries before being revived and partially reconstructed in the early 1300s. In this book Steven Heine examines the diverse ideological connections and disconnections behind subsequent commentaries and translations of the Blue Cliff Record, thereby shedding light on the broad range of gongan literature produced in the eleventh to thirteenth centuries and beyond. Shifting Shape, Shaping Text Steven Heine, 1999-01-01

Annotation: Shifting Shape, Shaping Text examines the fox koan in relation to philosophical and institutional issues facing the Chan Zen tradition in both Sung China and medieval and contemporary Japan. Daitokuji Gregory P. A. Levine, 2005 The Zen Buddhist monastery Daitokuji in Kyoto has long been revered as a cloistered meditation centre, a repository of art treasures and a wellspring of the Zen aesthetic. Gregory Levine's Daitokuji unsettles these conventional notions with groundbreaking inquiry into the significant and surprising visual and social identities of sculpture, painting and calligraphy associated with this fourteenth-century monastery and its enduring monastic and lay communities. The book begins with a study of Zen portraiture at Daitokuji that reveals the precariousness of portrait likeness: the face that gazes out from an abbot's painting or statue may not be who we expect it to be or submit quietly to interpretation. By tracing the life of Daitokuji's famed statue of the Chan patriarch Sen no Rikyū (1522-91), which was all but destroyed by the ruler Toyotomi Hideyoshi (1537-98) but survived in Rashōmon-like narratives and reconstituted sculptural forms, Levine throws light upon the contested status of images and their mytho-poetic potential. Levine then draws from the seventeenth-century journal of Kōgetsu Sōgan, Bokuseki no utsushi, to explore practices of calligraphy, connoisseurship at Daitokuji and the pivotal role played by the monastery's abbots within Kyoto art circles. The book's final section explores Daitokuji's annual airings of temple treasures not merely as a practice geared toward preservation but also as a space in which different communities vie for authority over the artistic past. An epilogue follows the peripatetic journey of the monastery's scrolls of the 500 Luohan from China to Japan to exhibition and partial sale in the West and back to Daitokuji. Illuminating canonical and heretofore ignored works and mining a trove of documents, diaries and modern writings, Levine argues for the plurality of Daitokuji's visual arts and the breadth of social and ritual circumstances of art-making and viewing within the monastery. This diversity encourages reconsideration of stereotyped notions of Zen art and offers specialists and general readers alike opportunity to explore the fertile and sometimes volatile nexus of the visual arts and religious sites in Japan. Zen-brain Reflections James H. Austin, 2006 A sequel to the popular Zen and the Brain, this further explores pivotal points of intersection in Zen Buddhism, neuroscience and consciousness, arriving at a new synthesis of information from both neuroscience research and Zen studies.
