Sandra E. Hockenbury, Susan A. Nolan, 2018-12-07 Sandra Hockenbury and new coauthor Susan Nolan's remarkable textbook is grounded in the belief that all kinds of students can develop a real understanding of psychology and lasting scientific literacy. The authors act on that belief by using relatable personal stories to communicate the concepts of psychological science and the process of science itself and by presenting important research in a clear not oversimplified way. Hockenbury and Nolan also take full advantage of online learning creating activities in LaunchPad that have students thinking about psychology as scientists do. New coauthor Susan Nolan of Seton Hall University was recently designated a Master Teacher by the Society for Teaching Psychology. She regularly gives talks about incorporating scientific literacy into the introductory course and across the psychology curriculum. Lifespan Development Jeffrey S. Turner, Donald B. Helms, 1983

Lifespan Development in Context David N. Sattler, 2000 Lifespan Development in Context corresponds to the organization of most lifespan development and developmental psychology textbooks beginning with issues involving birth and infancy continuing with childhood adolescence and adulthood and concluding with issues concerning dying and death. Each chapter contains 4-6 personal narratives and each narrative covers a different concept issue or topic within a given age period.

Lifespan Development Janina M. Jolley, Mark L. Mitchell, 1996 The authors wrote this book to help students think like developmental psychologists. Specifically they want students who read this book to critically examine claims about the nature and causes of development. Have a clear understanding of the major issues in developmental psychology. To understand what developmental psychologists have learned about the development of memory intelligence attachment and other developmental issues. Pref
