First Defense Anxiety And Instinct For Self Protection:

First Defense David Hopkins, 2015 We all have a built in weapon system called anxiety This book will teach you how to use anxiety as a personal weapon to achieve awareness and avoidance which are the first two steps learned in self defense preparedness training making you more effective and more successful at facing a physical or mental enemy no matter how large or small they may be Psychoanalysis (Its Evolution & Development) M. Asch, 2004 War Is Not Inevitable Henri Parens, 2014-07-22 In 1932 Einstein asked Freud Is there any way of delivering mankind from the menace of war Freud answered that war is inevitable because humans have an instinct to self destroy a death instinct which we must externalize to survive But nearly four decades of study of aggression reveal that rather than being an inborn drive destructiveness is generated in us by experiences of excessive psychic pain In War Is Not Inevitable On the Psychology of War and Aggression Henri Parens argues that the death instinct based model of aggression can neither be proved nor disproved as Freud's answer is untestable By contrast the multi trends theory of aggression is provable and has greater heuristic value than does a death instinct based model of aggression When we look for causes for war we turn to history as well as national ethnic territorial and or political issues among many others but we also tend to ignore the psychological factors that play a large role Parens discusses such psychological factors that seem to lead large groups into conflict Central among these are the psychodynamics of large group narcissism Interactional conditions stand out hyper narcissistic large groups have in history caused much narcissistic injury to those they believe they are superior to But this is commonly followed by the narcissistically injured group's experiencing high level hostile destructiveness toward their injury perpetrator which in time will compel them to revenge Among groups that have been engaged in serial conflicts wars have followed from this psychodynamic narcissism based cyclicity Parens details some of the psychodynamics that led from World War I to World War II and their respective aftermath and he addresses how major factors that gave rise to these wars must can and have been counteracted In doing so Parens considers strategies by which civilization has and is constructively preventing wars as well as the need for further innovative efforts to achieve that end Towards a Jungian Theory of the Ego Karen Evers-Fahey, 2016-07-15 Despite their prevalence and weight in many of his collected works and letters Jung did not articulate a general theory of the ego and consciousness Towards a Jungian Theory of the Ego examines the development of Jung's concept of the ego as he expanded and revised this concept from his earliest formulations about consciousness while a student to his mature thoughts at the end of his life Drawing on Ego Psychology as a theoretical framework Evers Fahey proposes that Jung uses the concept of ego in four distinct ways and that he developed and used his ego concept based on two discrete paradigms These distinctions explain the confusion and ambiguity found when examining the development of Jung's analytical psychology over his lifetime This book provides an examination of ego development and ego defenses based on a unique Jungian standpoint as well as discussion of the relationship between the ego and the Self and the ego and the individuum Furthermore the inclusion of a historical framework helps to place the development of these concepts in context This book proposes a theory of ego psychology based on Jungian theory rather than traditional psychoanalytic theory thereby filling a gap in the knowledge of Jungian theory The book will be essential reading for academics and postgraduate students engaged in the study of Jungian psychology and psychoanalytic theory and will also be valued by those interested in Jung and ego psychology more generally From Death Instinct to Attachment Theory Tomas Geyskens,Philippe Van

Haute,2020-09-15 Two leading psychoanalysts resolve the conflict between attachment theory and trauma theory In From Death Instinct to Attachment Theory Tomas Geyskens and Philippe Van Haute address a theoretical conflict at the heart of contemporary psychoanalysis Analytic theory especially the work of Melanie Klein asserts the developmental primacy of infantile Hilflosigkeit and the trauma it inevitably inflicts however John Bowlby and other attachment theorists have shown that attachment to the mother is primary and instinctive and not the result of traumatic helplessness Geyskens and Van Haute resolve the apparent tension between the empirical fact of the primacy of attachment and the fundamental psychoanalytic theory of infantile trauma by drawing on Imre Hermann's distinction between natural development and subjective history Arguing that Hermann's theory constitutes a workable clinical anthropology of attachment they undertake a deep and revealing analysis of the work of Freud and Klein on the death instinct trauma and infantile sexuality the critique leveled by attachment theorists like Bowlby and the overlooked insights of the Hungarian School of Psychoanalysis From Death Instinct to Attachment Theory offers an elegant answer to an important problem in psychoanalysis and provides new insight into the sort of clinical phenomena that led Freud to move beyond the pleasure principle in the first place Journal of the American Psychoanalytic Association American Psychoanalytic Association,1955-07 The American Church Monthly,1922 The New American Church Monthly ... Charles Sears Baldwin,Selden Peabody Delany,Charles Carroll

Few authors who have written about Hitler have understood the deeply damaging effects of psychic trauma on his private life and the way he functioned in the public sphere Nearly all major biographers have neglected the importance of Hitler s childhood trauma and his later combat trauma during World War I In Wounded Monster Theo Dorpat demonstrates how extreme emotional and physical abuse from his father and his unusually long combat service during the Great War became the most formative influences of his life resulting in severe psychiatric disorders This psychiatric biography of Hitler discusses the central importance of his vulnerability to shame emotions as well as the trauma induced construction of an extensive repertoire of mainly unconscious mechanisms for the avoidance of feelings of shame Dorpat provides deep insights into Hitler s shame vulnerability as a prime cause of his suicidal behavior including his suicide threats two failed suicide attempts and his final completed suicide This work will assist those attempting to explain Hitler and his actions through an examination of the influences that shaped his psyche
