Darlena Ciraulo, Matthew Kozusko, Robert Sawyer, 2022-06-29 Performing Shakespearean Appropriations explores the production and consumption of Shakespeare in acts of adaptation and appropriation across time periods and through a range of performance topics. The ten essays moving from the seventeenth to the twenty first century address uses of Shakespeare in the novel, television, cinema and digital media. Drawing on Christy Desmet's work, several contributors figure appropriation as a posthumanist enterprise that engages with electronic Shakespeare by dismantling, reassembling and recreating Shakespearean texts in and for digital platforms. The collection thus looks at media and performance technologies diachronically in its focus on Shakespeare's afterlives. Contributors also construe the notion of performance broadly to include performances of selves, of communities, of agencies and of authenticity, either Shakespeare's or the user's or both. The essays examine both specific performances and larger trends across media and they consider a full range of modes from formal and professional to casual and amateur, from the fixed and traditional to the ephemeral, the itinerant and the irreverent.
